HOW HE HUNTS: Rolex is one of the most balanced hunting dogs you will find. He will tree coons close or far, hot or cold, and is a hard, stay-put tree dog that rarely misses. He can get through the woods as fast as smaller, younger dogs. He has a loud, booming voice that carries deep through the winter woods. He was a pleasure dog most of his life, but is now an excellent competition dog that is most often first strike and tree. He will be hunted to GR NITE CH and his HTX title just to show those who don't know him what a coon dog he is.

HOW HE LOOKS: Rolex is one of the nicest looking hounds around and turns heads wherever he goes. He still looks young at his age, and people everywhere have a hard time believing he is ten. He looks young. He hunts young.

HOW ARE HIS PUPS: He was bred once early in life, with some excellent results from that litter. He was then hunted and "hidden" most of his life, and not bred again until fairly recently. These pups have been mostly early starters, hard tree dogs, good looking and have all had LOUD mouths.

HOW'S HE BRED: Rolex is off WLDNITECH X Jr. on the top (Sackett/Nailor bred). His bottom side is heavy Yadkin River with a lot of good coon dogs. His dam was a coon dog with a good mouth and good looking who was directly off of Sackett, Sr. He should cross well on Harry, Lipper, Wipeout, Coma, Nailor, and most lines. There are many studs to choose from, but you won't find many that are as balanced, accurate, and have a mouth like his. HE IS A COON DAWG!

HOW TO BREED TO HIM: He can be bred live (with negative Brucellosis test), A.I. at the vet here in Monroe (low cost), or we can ship semen to your location (additional expenses apply). We have reduced the price on him at least until he is finished to GR NITE CH to encourage others to pass on his ability while we still can (with Super Stakes and Performance registration).
